Section Specific Course Description

What is happiness? This is the one of the most puzzling questions that humankind has been trying to answer for centuries. In the 21st century, a new science of happiness emerged in an attempt to research this universal value globally. In this class, we will learn how something so subjective as happiness can now be measured and what this science can help us understand about the world. We will explore the factors affecting national happiness and investigate what we can learn from the countries with high rankings in the World Happiness Report. Perhaps, while learning about happy people around the world, we can learn how to be happier ourselves.

Course Description and Requisites

English 2 is a course that focuses on the relationship between language and logic in composing arguments. Students learn various methods of effective reasoning and appropriate rhetorical strategies to help them invent, demonstrate, and express arguments clearly, logically, and persuasively.

GE Area(s): A3. Critical Thinking and Writing

Prerequisite(s): Completion of GE Area A2 with a grade of "C-" or better.

Note(s): ENGL 2 is not open to students who successfully completed ENGL 1B.

Letter Graded

Classroom Protocols

Faculty Web Page and MYSJSU Messaging

Course materials such as syllabus, handouts, notes, assignment instructions, etc. can be found on the Canvas Learning Management System course login website. You're responsible for regularly checking with the messaging system through MySJSU to learn of any updates. For help with using Canvas see Canvas Student Resources page.

Time Commitment

Success in this course is based on the expectation that students will spend, for each unit of credit, a minimum of 45 hours on this course each semester (normally three hours per unit per week) for instruction, preparation/studying, or course related activities, including but not limited to internships, labs, and clinical practica. Other course structures will have equivalent workload expectations as described in the syllabus.

Final Examination or Evaluation

In Stretch English, our learning each semester culminates in a digital Reflection and Portfolio Assignment. In this assignment, we will gather samples of our writing that demonstrate our learning; we will write a reflection essay that explains what we have learned, how we learned it, and how we will use it in future learning; and we will submit our portfolio for consideration to other people in the first-year writing program. This is our chance to identify and articulate what we've learned and what we'll take forward with us into future learning/writing experiences.

Grading in Stretch English

In the fall semester (ENGL 1AF), you will receive either a CR (credit) or a NC (no credit). To receive credit in the fall semester, you must honor your instructor's grading policy and demonstrate significant, measurable progress throughout the semester.

In the spring semester (ENGL 1AS), you will receive a letter grade for the course. You must earn a C- or better to earn graduation credit for GE Area A2.

Campus Resources for Writers

SJSU Writing Center

Located in MLK Library, 2nd floor, the Writing Center offers appointments with tutors who are well trained to assist you as you work to become a better writer. The Writing Center offers both one-on-one tutoring and workshops on a variety of writing topics. All services are free. To make an appointment or to refer to the Center's online resources, visit the Writing Center website.

Program Policies

First-Year Writing policies are listed at the following website:

Program Information

Welcome to this General Education course.

SJSU's General Education Program establishes a strong foundation of versatile skills, fosters curiosity about the world, promotes ethical judgment, and prepares students to engage and contribute responsibly and cooperatively in a multicultural, information-rich society. General education classes integrate areas of study and encourage progressively more complex and creative analysis, expression, and problem solving.

The General Education Program has three goals:

Goal 1: To develop students' core competencies for academic, personal, creative, and professional pursuits.

Goal 2: To enact the university's commitment to diversity, inclusion, and justice by ensuring that students have the knowledge and skills to serve and contribute to the well-being of local and global communities and the environment.

Goal 3: To offer students integrated, multidisciplinary, and innovative study in which they pose challenging questions, address complex issues, and develop cooperative and creative responses.

More information about the General Education Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs) can be found on the GE website \(https://www.sjsu.edu/general-education/ge-requirements/overview/learning-outcomes.php\).

Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs)

GE Area A3: Critical Thinking and Writing

Area A3 courses develop students' understanding of the relationship of language to logic. By engaging students in complex issues requiring critical thinking and effective argumentation, A3 courses develop students' abilities to research and analyze important topics and to construct their own arguments on issues that generate meaningful public debate and deliberation. Courses include explicit instruction and practice in inductive and deductive reasoning as well as identification of formal and informal fallacies of language and thought. Completion of Area A2 (Written Communication I) with a minimum grade of C- is a prerequisite for enrollment in Area A3. Completion of Area A3 with a grade of C- or better is a CSU graduation requirement.

GE Area A3 Learning Outcomes

Upon successful completion of an Area A3 course, students should be able to:

1. locate, interpret, evaluate, and synthesize evidence in a comprehensive way, including through library research; and integrate research findings into oral and written arguments through appropriate citation and quotation;
2. use a range of rhetorical and logical strategies to articulate and explain their positions on complex issues in dialogue with other points of view;
3. identify and critically evaluate the assumptions in and the contexts of arguments; and
4. use inductive and deductive logic to construct valid, evidence-supported arguments and draw valid conclusions.

Writing Practice: Students will write a minimum of 6000 words, at least 4000 of which must be in revised final draft form.

Course Materials

There are no formal textbooks required for this course. This course is part of the Affordable Learning Solutions program that was created to provide easy, direct access to inexpensive, accessible, and high-quality alternatives. All course readings and materials are available on Canvas, online, and through the MLK Library databases. Additional links to required readings will be posted within Canvas.

IMPORTANT COURSE POLICIES

You are encouraged to use the tutoring services on campus, but all work in the course is expected to be your own. If there is a reason to believe otherwise, the instructor has the right to require additional evidence that the work is your original writing.

Statement of Plagiarism: The English Department adheres strictly to the rules against plagiarism as set forth in the SJSU Catalog. The Catalog defines plagiarism as follows:

The act of representing the work of another as one's own (without giving appropriate credit) regardless of how that work was obtained, and submitting it to fulfill academic requirements. "Content generated by an Artificial Intelligence third-party service or site (AI-generated content) without proper attribution or authorization would also be a form of plagiarism." (Center for Integrated Professional Development, Illinois State University (2023). Plagiarism at SJSU includes but is not limited to:

The act of incorporating the ideas, words, sentences, paragraphs, or parts thereof, or the specific substance of another's work, without giving appropriate credit, and representing the product as one's own work; and

Representing another's artistic/scholarly works such as musical compositions, computer programs, photographs, paintings, drawing, sculptures or similar works as one's own.(available at <http://info.sjsu.edu/static/catalog/policies.html> - Student Responsibilities - Discipline – Policy on Academic Dishonesty – 1.0 Definitions of Academic Dishonesty)

Should a student plagiarize in any course, the instructor will report the student to the University's Office of Student Conduct and Ethical Development. Also, points will be deducted from the assignment/course depending on the severity of the policy violation.

How to avoid plagiarism. It is not always easy to recognize whether you are legitimately citing the work of others or whether you have "crossed the line" into plagiarism. To become acquainted with what plagiarism is and how to avoid it, the following SJSU website offers definitions, policies, and links to useful websites offering guidelines in plagiarism prevention. Students are fully accountable for understanding these policies. <https://libguides.sjsu.edu/plagiarism/how-to-avoid-plagiarism>

Additional AI Policy

AI is an emerging tool in the workforce and in our daily lives. You will likely encounter and use it in your future career regardless of the field, so you will have to learn how to ethically use AI. It is also important to understand that for you as a developing college thinker and writer, AI may subvert the writing process and prevent the development of necessary skills. One of the course goals is to help you learn to write and communicate effectively, which requires practice. Therefore, you must learn how to create, edit, and recognize high-quality writing yourself. If AI can do these tasks without you, you won't have employable skills. Therefore, you will be responsible for disclosing when and how you used AI and for producing the original human work for any final product based on the following policy:

Students in this writing course are expected to produce their own work based on critical thinking, problem solving skills, and learning. Any work generated by AI (such as ChatGPT) cannot be accepted as students' own work. Students may not submit any AI-generated text and claim it as their own. No AI or machine translation for extensive phrasing, full sentences, or a greater portion of the paper is allowed. The instructor will check the AI score along with originality score in the Turnitin.com report for student submissions. Students must check their Turnitin scores after submitting their final drafts to make sure they are not above 15%. The Instructor may refuse to accept a student's submission as the student's own work based on the AI and originality scores in Turnitin.com and the instructor's investigation of the situation.

We will learn to use AI technology in this class as a means of assistive technology during the writing process. Using AI tools ethically and purposefully can help, and not subvert, students' development of writing skills. Misusing AI by using it to write the majority of the essay without significant contributions or revision or failing to disclose the use of AI will result in consequences ranging from a written/verbal warning to failing the assignment or course and a report to the Student Conduct Board.

Please, see additional information about AI resources on SJSU Writing Across the Curriculum page: <https://sjsu.edu/wac/docs/ChatGPT%20Resources.pdf>

✓ Grading Information

How Grades are Calculated

Grading Contract:[\[1\]](#)

In this class, we will work as a learning community to develop our approaches to reading and writing different types of texts. We will experiment with unfamiliar strategies, and at times we will feel unsure about the direction of our work and our comprehension of the work of others. We will develop writing processes to help us, including prewriting, drafting, workshopping, and revising. We will rely on each other for feedback and support, but we will also take charge of our own learning and success. What does that mean in terms of grading?

This class is meant to improve your skills and experiences as college-level writers, drawing from each of your unique funds of knowledge. Therefore, we will not be using a traditional grading system. Instead, you will be largely responsible for your own grade.

Minor assignments will be graded for completion; you will receive a 1/1 for every finished minor assignment you turn in on time. You will receive partial credit for late minor assignments with a 5% penalty per day after the due date.

Major assignments will be graded out of larger amount of points based on a quality rubric and must be completed and submitted on time and in full. We will break down the requirements for each assignment and the conventions of each genre you need to meet to achieve each point value. This means that while major assignments will be assessed for things like development, organization, coherence, and convention features, they will not be weighted enough to have a large bearing on your overall course grade (so long as you are keeping up with the minor assignments).

Missed class work cannot be made up. Students are allowed 3 excused class assignments for any reason per semester.

Students must maintain a participation total of a minimum of 76% (C-) to submit major assignments.

All major assignments must be turned in to earn a passing credit for the course.

You are guaranteed success in this class if:

- 1. You complete the majority of all in-class and out-of-class minor assignments, including in-class reading responses and outlines and drafts of all your work. Note: In-class assignments cannot be made up as the result of an absence.*
- 2. You prioritize attendance and participate in in-class activities.*
- 3. You abide by the classroom protocol we establish as a writing/learning community.*
- 4. You work cooperatively and collegially in groups. We will come up with parameters for constructive criticism and a shared vocabulary for discussing potentially sensitive subjects.*
- 5. You complete all major and minor assignments on time.*
- 6. You may turn out-of-class minor assignments late, late penalty will apply until credit becomes zero.*
- 7. You notify the instructor and ask for an extension due to emergency or sickness on one major individual assignment per semester.*
- 8. All submissions are complete and meet final word requirements.*
- 9. You provide thoughtful peer feedback during class workshops and commit yourself to other collaborative work.*
- 10. You honor the writing process and complete all steps thereof (e.g. reading/researching, prewriting, drafting, and revising).*

Your grade will correspond to your percentage in the "Total" column in Canvas. This will combine points received for in-class and out-of-class minor assignments as well as those for major assignments.

This approach to grading requires that all major assignments be completed in order to pass the class.

100% A+	99-97% A	96-94% A-
93-91% B+	90-88% B	87-85% B-
84-82% C+	81-79% C	78-76% C-
75-73% D+	72-70% D	69-66% D-
65% and below F
All major assignments are submitted to turnitin.com for plagiarism screening. You must check your originality report for submitted assignments to make sure you are not plagiarizing.
