Faculty Office Hours Policy

I. Office Hours for Instructional Assignments

- a. Faculty members are expected to be available to their students for instruction-related support. To achieve this availability faculty members are expected to schedule instructional office hours during which they will be available to their students for consultation.
- b. Faculty members who are teaching a full load are expected to hold a minimum of two (2) regularly scheduled office hours per week. The mode in which scheduled office hours are held should provide maximum opportunity for students to engage with the faculty member. For example, faculty teaching online courses may hold all scheduled office hours online, while faculty teaching in person may hold all scheduled office hours split between online and in person.
- c. In addition to regularly scheduled office hours, faculty are expected to meet with students by appointment (in-person or online) at mutually convenient times and within reason. This time is not only restricted to one on one meetings, but can include group forums as well as other modes of interaction and messaging in which student questions are addressed as is reasonable to address trends and student/faculty availability.
- d. For faculty members who are teaching less than a full load, the minimum number of scheduled office hours may be prorated, but the number of scheduled hours will not be less than one hour per week unless the faculty member is not teaching.
- e. Individual departments may develop guidelines on scheduled instructional office hours that differ from this policy. Departmental guidelines should be developed collaboratively and must be approved by a faculty vote in compliance with S17-6: Departmental Voting Rights. The guidelines must include a rationale explaining the reason for divergence from the University policy and must be approved by the appropriate dean.

II. Office Hours for Non-Instructional Assignments

- a. Faculty may be required to have office hours for non-instructional assignments, such as advising, research-related, or service activities. The time(s), mode(s), and number of these office hours may be dictated by

62 departmental, college, or university guidelines or an expectation of faculty
63 assigned time. The details (times/modes/numbers) of these non-instructional 64 office hours should be made available to students as widely as possible.

65 b. If the office hours are based on departmental guidelines, they must be 66 developed collaboratively and must be approved by a faculty vote in 67 compliance with S17-6: Departmental Voting Rights. The approved guidelines 68 must include a rationale explaining the reason for the policy and must be 69 approved by the appropriate dean.

70 III. Professional Expectations

71 It is important that established office hours be kept and responses to student 72 communications be timely. Faculty members are responsible for these 73 obligations as a part of their academic assignments. Faculty may make changes 74 to scheduled office hours as long as they give maximum possible notice to 75 students, depending on the reason for the change, and reschedule office hours in 76 a timely manner. It should be noted that faculty do a considerable amount of 77 advising and consultation through email and other electronic and analog media.

78 IV. Revision of the University Faculty Office Hours Policy

79 It is in the best interests of students and faculty that the policy be reviewed to 80 make sure that it is effective and workable, particularly in the context of changing 81 educational technologies. Review of this policy should take place no less than 82 every five years by an appropriate Academic Senate committee.
